ABSTRACT: - Indian society is highly stratified, with many glaring inequalities among different social groups. The worst positioned among them are the Dalits and tribal’s (Cattell, 1942). The caste system segregated the Dalits from the rest of the society to such an extent that they were denied even the basic human rights that one must enjoy in order to ensure one’s bare assistance (Warner, 1960). The caste system has created and sustained an unequal opportunity structure, which is an anathema to the egalitarian principles, which are the basis of a modern democratic society. What is worse, it intensifies and perpetuates the sufferings and servitude of disadvantage caste class groups by reducing their access to development benefits vis-a-vis the higher caste class groups. Thus, after the five decades of planned economic development and all the rhetoric of the socialistic pattern of society, the economic status of these communities is pathetic (Singh, 2000). This paper aims to study the socio-economic status of kaikadi caste in Maharashtra. Kaikadi is a caste which is included in Scheduled caste for region of vidarbha excluding Rajura Tahsil in Dist. Chandrapur and being included in Vimukt Jaati in rest of Maharashtra with this particular area restriction. From this study findings, we stated that the both the categories of caste are treated as untouchables. Especially untouchability is observed with people of category of vimukta jaati even today Dining and marriage dealings take place among both categories of caste. Kaikadi people from both categories are socially, economically, educationally very backward.

I. INTRODUCTION :

The Indian social system is very ancient and equally complicated. It is proceeding from last five thousand years. Especially, Hindu religion is strong in India. Hindu religion has maintained its strength and existence from ancient time. Groups like upper and lower, senior - junior, touchable - untouchable, slave - servant, were formed during transition period of Hindu religion because of Varna system and caste system in Indian society to it a descending uneven system: Due to this entire Indian society got divided in castes and sub-castes and Hindu religion has became a museum of caste system. Any single ‘one’ caste is found all over India. There are 8000 (Eight Thousand) castes in Hindu religion in Entire Indians. There are 8000 castes in India. The total no of castes in Indian social system is 4000 (four thousand) as per the opinion of Dr. S. V. Ketkar. This no. is stated to be 3000 in the part C. C. H. no. 3 page no. 279 of world book. Dr. Chandekar has said that, there are twelve and half castes in each such castes. As per the opinion of Dr. Ghurye, caste is a area based linguistic groups. There are 200 castes groups in a region they are divided into 3000 small groups. It observed from all above, that the no of castes and sub - castes is remarkable in India.

- The origin of Indian caste system: When a study was conducted regarding the formation of castes in Indian social system, it is clear that it is very difficult to firmly tell about when caste was generated,formed in Indian society. Caste system has been deeply rooted in Indian social system and has become an undivided part of Indian society. Caste is very deceptive. H. B. P. Baba Maharaj stated in Marathi that ‘ ji manatun Jaat nahi ti jaat ’ mean “ caste is a mental sense which never goes from mind.”It was ok, till the point that man as mankind was considering superior than other animals but it played havoc when some person started considering himself / herself superior than other person and hence poisonous inequality was generated.
The concept of caste:- The word caste is a Latin word and its meaning is species or birth borne differentiation. Hence we can say that caste is a system generated on the basis of birth differentiations. Caste is called ‘Yati’ in Marathi and ‘Kulam’ in south India. Though caste has a meaning of caste but a small known part of caste is actually called as caste. The caste in India is also called ‘Jan’ which is a Sanskrit word and its meaning is a group coming in existence on the basis of birth. In the ancient period, the ways of transport and communication were very scarce, the marriages were not arranged between families at distant places. There were many difficulties in getting the information of other groups, hence it was considered to arrange marriages between families residing in and around nearby places. The marriage relations in such known field were considered proper and such field was considered as proper field of caste. Some symptoms and characteristics of castes, are stated by experts who have studied castes. As per the a French expert ‘Senart’, a caste is a principally binding a closed institution of heredity. It has an independent ‘Jaat Panchayat’. This panchayat has a chief. A meeting of such panchayat is held on some festival day and on special occasions. Generally, selective people attend it. Caste is generally related to some particular profession. The relation between people in a caste is controlled mainly due to Roti - Beti relations and public functions. Exclusion limits are different, but a complete authority of declaring specific punishment is vested in the chief of caste. Also an uncontrolled power to out caste lies with the caste chief. As per the opinion of Dr. Iravati Karve, marriages take place only within the castes. To understand the concepts of caste, it is useful to mention this special observation about marriages. These specification are as follows.

- Caste is a group such that marriages take place within it.
- There is a specific traditional behavior method of each caste and the responsibility of verifying whether those are observed or not, lies on the ‘Jaat Panchayat’ comprised of elderly and respectable persons of that caste.
- The people of different castes live beside each other by generally not mixing with each other and their relations are very casual.
- Every caste has some ancestral type of traditional profession, but there may be more castes of people engaged in same type of profession.
- There are superior and interior positions of castes in society and there is a grading or ladder of all castes. It is found to be said by a greek ambassador Megasthenis while describing caste, that people in a caste cannot engage in various professions. Also some experts have defined caste and it will help to explain the nature of castes.
- Caste is such a people’s group that, they do not have inter relations regarding food sharing marriages person in such a group maintain above type of relations only with the other person in inner closed goup.
- ‘Kuley’ has defined that, when a class is entirely based on heredity, it is called as a caste.
- As per the opinion of Dr. Iravati Karve, an inter-marriage group keeping wide relations is caste.
- In short, many attempts are made to define caste. A broad character of caste is ‘when entry in a group is due to birth and not because of any other reason and also any person in such cannot marry with person not in that group is called as a caste.’

Kaikadi Community:- Kaikadi is a caste which is included in Scheduled caste for region of vidarbha excluding Rajura Tahsil in Dist. Chandrapur and being included in Vimukt Jaati in rest of Maharashtra with this particular area restriction. To undertake the the study of its status, especially economical and social organization, the natural resources i.e. forest property, trees, animals held by them and their relationship with people of other castes and people groups, is very important for understanding that caste with regards of its upliftment. In this current study, the main objective is study the Kaikadi community which passed in phases of ‘scheduled caste’, nomedics, nomedic criminal caste, vimukt Jaati etc. with view of knowing its social, economic, educational aspects. The castes and tribes which do not settle at one place and keep translating frequently for livelihood are called as nomads (Bhatke in Marathi). In the ancient time period mankind was unstable and lived in the form of tribes. As there was no fixed resource of livelihood man had to be in the migration mode always. During the time of clashes, the weaker tribes had migration as a regular alternative. Along the time line man understood and adopted many tools of livelihood and many of them started settling at some chosen places. Some could not adjust with such settling process and they continued to be nomads. Such people do not permanent means of livelihood, hence their life has become backward, unstable, poor and ignored. There is not much change in their status even now Continual migration is their permanent altitude.
The place of origin of Kaikadi people:-
The writers and researchers V Raghavayya (1968, P.173) Laxman Mane (1997, P.57) Dr. N. D. Kadam(1968,P49), T.N Atre (1911.P.40), Prabhakar Mande (1983,P.119) have said in their books though Kaikadi community is found in Maharashtra, this community is originally not Maharashtrian community. Due to forest related of polices of British, some families in their community have left forests and travelled into Maharashtra. These People are originally found on the sea-coast of Andhra Pradesh. They are originally people from Kuruchi region in the Telangana in Tamilnadu.

The existence of Kaikadi community in India. As per the opinion of above said researches the Kaikadi. People are found in Andhra Pradesh, Tamilnadu, Kerala, Karnataka, Odisha, Madhya Pradesh, Bihar, Maharashtra. These people are called Yerkula in Andhara Pradesh, Korchya in Mysore, Korvi in Karnataka, Karvi in Madras, Kaikadi in Mandhya Pradesh and Maharashtra.

The existence of Kaikadi Community in the state of Maharashtra.
The Colonies of Kaikadi community are found on large scale in vidarbha region of Maharashtra. These People are known as members of ‘scheduled caste’ in their region and are known as members of ‘Vimukt Jaati’ in the rest of Maharashtra. These people have migrated from Andhra and Madhya Pradesh into Vidarbha region, Nashik region and Marathwada. The Kaikadi community in western Maharashtra is migrated from Karnataka state. This difference is observed in the language used by Kaikadi Community in different parts of state. The dilates or Kaikadi community in Vidarbha and Marathwada, Nasik is one and the dilate of Kaikadi community in Western Maharashtra is different than it. For example. While asking ‘what is it?’ the Kaikadi community in vidarbha, Marathwada, Nashik regions ask ‘ Muda kir’ and Karkadi in western Mahashatra ask ‘Yand Ingid’. The Kaikadi in western Maharashtra consider them selves as Korvi, Bajania. From these observations, it can known that, which Kaikadi people have migrated from which regions.

Research Methodology:-
Maharashtra state having a population of 11.24 crore as per census 2011 is 2nd largest state in India on the basis of population. State is urbanized on a large scale and 45.2 % citizens in state live in cities. As per the census, the population of scheduled castes is 1.33 crore in this state. These are 47 castes included in the scheduled castes, 14 castes in vimukt Jati, 37 castes in Nomadic and 350 castes in O. B. C in Maharashtra state. It is especially found that Kaikadi community which is mentioned in on the sr. no. 28 in the list of in scheduled castes in mentioned on Sr.No.4 in the list of ‘Vimukt Jaati. ➢ Statistical Analysis:-

1. To study the Socio, economic, educational, ethnographic study of Kaikadi caste. we filled the 940 questionnaires from Kaikadi community People. For checking the dependency between gender and education we have used chi-square test of Independence at 5% level of significance.

\[ \chi^2 = \sum \frac{(O_i - E_i)^2}{E_i} \]

\[ \chi^2 \text{ Tabulated Value } 69.33 > \]

\[ \chi^2 \text{ Critical Value } 3.84 \]

So we Reject H0 (Null Hypothesis) at 0.05 level of Significance. Gender and education of kaikadi community is dependent to each other.

2. To check whether there is any relation between education and occupation of Kaikadi Community people in Maharashtra, we use the Pearson’s correlation coefficient

\[ r = \frac{n(\Sigma xy) - (\Sigma x)(\Sigma y)}{\sqrt{1 n\Sigma x^2 - (\Sigma x)^2} 1 n\Sigma y^2 - (\Sigma y)^2}} \]

\[ r = 0.38 \]
There is positive relation between education and occupation. If education gets larger then also Occupation gets Larger.
